KIDS WHO COOK...Eat!

A lunchtime solution for youth ages 8-14.

Younger kids work alongside our adult instructors while older youth can indulge their culinary curiosity under our guidance.

This summer, youth will once again learn different aspects of cooking at the Flour Pot Kitchen Classroom. The class will conclude with dining on the food they've made.

Each week we have a different recipe to share and new techniques for participants to learn. Register for classes individually as you can pick and choose which weeks your child can attend.

Pre-registration is required. Sign your kiddo up to participate in one or more of the classes listed below. Upon registration you will be sent a liability release form and payment information. Parents need not be present during the class but are welcome to volunteer to chaperone.

COST: $40 per class/per student. We look forward to working with your children this summer!
